

Infant September Newsletter

Welcome to September! As we transition into the new season, we're thrilled to guide your little ones through a month full of discovery and growth. This month, our activities will center around the wonders of autumn—introducing sensory play with leaves, warm colors, and gentle nature-themed music. We're excited to see how these experiences will spark their curiosity and help them reach new milestones.

This Month

As we step into September, we're embracing the vibrant colors of fall and the spirit of Labor Day. This month, we'll celebrate the changing season with activities that highlight autumn's beauty and the importance of work and rest. Our little ones will enjoy sensory play inspired by fall leaves and simple, engaging projects that honor the hard work of the adults in their lives. We're excited for a month filled with discovery and fun!
